

Sustainable Food Production (SFP)

SFP.H4S Review Environmental Performance

Unit Summary

This unit is about the skills required to review and identify changes to organisation targets and objectives against environmental performance. The standard looks at the identification of changes and the development of a plan to implement these.

Related Units

This is a skills unit and the underpinning knowledge and understanding is set out in: SFP.H4K Understand how to review Environmental Performance

You must be able to:	This means you:
a. Review environmental performance against objectives and targets	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Identify current organisational objectives and targets for environmental performance 2. Establish measures to evaluate the achievements of objectives and targets for environmental performance 3. Review the achievement of objectives and targets of environmental performance 4. Identify variations and reasons for these
b. Identify and recommend changes to objectives and targets for environmental performance	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 5. Identify good practice and areas of improvement in relation to environmental performance 6. Communicate and record the perceptions and views of interested parties to recommend changes to objectives and target for environmental performance improvement 7. Establish and agree a plan of change, that identifies and measures the impact on objectives and targets and the resources required 8. Communicate recommendations for change to colleagues and interested parties

Key Words

Environmental performance	Measurable results of an organisation's management of its environmental aspects
----------------------------------	---