

Sustainable Food Production (SFP)

SFP.H9S Report Environmental Performance

Unit Summary

This unit is about skills required to produce and disseminate an environmental report in accordance with good practice. It includes the evaluation of information for inclusion in a report and how the report can be communicated and validated.

Related Units

This is a skills unit and the underpinning knowledge and understanding is set out in:
SFP.H9K Understand how to report environmental performance

You must be able to:	This means you:
a. Produce reports on environmental performance	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Collect data and information on the organisation's environmental performance2. Analyse the data and information collected3. Produce reports which include data which is verifiable4. Prepare reports within the required timescale and present them in a format which is suited to the needs of reader5. Ensure that the arrangements for the dissemination of the reports meet organisational requirements6. Disseminate the reports in a way which is cost-effective and minimises environmental damage7. Encourage feedback from interested parties on the report contents and its value